

Christmas 2015

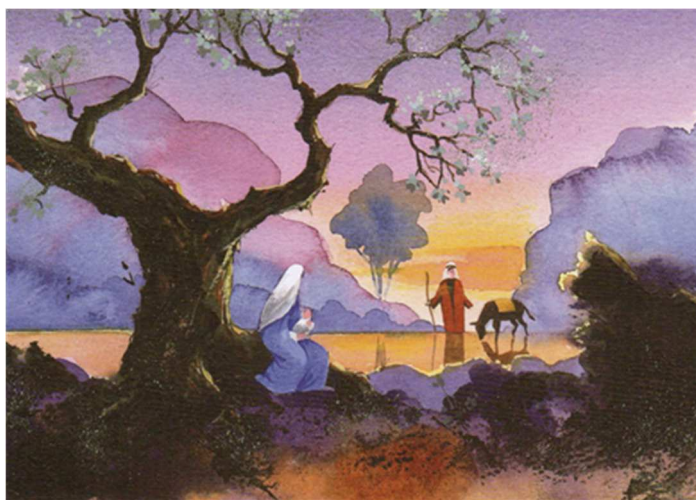

Dear Friends,

I wish you a very happy Christmas. In the New Year I wish you many blessings, peace, good health and many new discoveries! And success in what you feel to be most important.

Please share this message with your families, your colleagues, your group members and your communities.

I hope you feel satisfied with your work and lives in 2015. I know many of you have been very active and made a lot of progress.

African Nativity Scene

Thanks to the UK organisations Traidcraft, CAFOD, SCIAF and Christian Aid for this picture.

The nativity scene in the picture is entitled “Under the Baobab tree”. In those days it was certainly known by many that the leaves are very nutritious, and can be cooked as a vegetable, that the leaves can treat diarrhoea, that the fruits help to strengthen the immune system and that the tree will grow in a very dry climate.

Maybe baby Jesus being nursed under this tree of abundance reminds us to discover again the abundance in so many of our trees, to plant them, care for them and value them.

I hope that the celebration of the birth of Jesus means something new to you this year.

With very best wishes,

Keith
