

A brief accountability for the two wheelchairs donated to two Disabled Brothers.

I send you grateful thanks from the Community Development Officer (CDO) Maliba Sub-County and the parents of the two disabled brothers Simon and Sanairi who were suffering in their home but today they have been helped with wheelchairs to enable them move from one place to another and are going back to school to study and get knowledge that will help them become important people despite their disabilities. The parents are so happy and send their thanks to whomever gave a hand in supporting these children, that God's blessings be upon them. The CDO was happy also to see these children helped; it has been a burden in her office for years because they have not known what to do. She says helping these young boys in her Sub-County is a great achievement and she will make a report to the District. She has said that your support shall never be forgotten in the history of Maliba Sub-County!

Simon Mumbere and Sanairi Bwambale with the community Development Officer, Maliba Sub-County, on receiving the wheelchairs. She is advising them to use wheel chairs correctly since they have taken a long time to look for them.

Simon Mumbere 18 years old, in pure red T-shirt and his brother Sanairi Bwambale 16 years old. Before the wheelchairs were given to them, this is how life was.

Sanairi Bwambale talking to the Community Development Officer (CDO) He was saying that he had no hope regarding education, but now that he has the wheelchair, next term he is going to start school again.

The mother of the two disabled boys posing in a photo with her children. She was not sure that her children would get that opportunity. She was so happy that she cried!

This is the road the two boys had never moved along, but now they have wheelchairs they will start using the road. This is a sign that one day in life you can be resurrected!

Robert standing very happily with his clients.

Sanari Bwambale learning how to use a wheelchair without anybody helping him to push it. People are seeing how the boy is doing it alone. They are also happy to see a boy who was crawling on the ground now in a wheelchair.

Thank you.
